LOCATION

Teignmouth lies along a stretch of red sandstone coast to the north of the unspoilt estuary of the river Teign in South Devon. The town is both a popular holiday resort with many hotels and guest houses and also a thriving town in which to live and work. Situated 7 miles north of Torquay and 3 miles south of Dawlish, Teignmouth is a town of two different characters. Along the seaward edge of the town is "the Den", a large open space with lawns and flower beds running the full length of the town- between the beach and promenade and an elegant crescent of Georgian buildings. The estuary side of the town has a very different atmosphere. Boats rest peacefully in the busy harbour and small passenger ferries take people across the estuary mouth to the quaint, picturesque village of Shaldon, just across the water. The City of Exeter is approximately 15 miles north of Teignmouth with excellent transport links including an international airport and the M5 motorway.

Dicey Reilly's is a well-known and very successful town centre pub with a strong contingent of regular and local customers, boosted by the substantial tourist trade during the summer months. The business is one of the most successful wet led pubs in Teignmouth with a well-established trade and the benefit of being a Freehouse. The warm and welcoming atmosphere at Dicey Reilly's makes the pub a popular place for all ages to visit year round with an ever changing events programme together with regular live music nights. The pub has recently benefitted from the refurbishment of the Cellar Bar and Darts Room and hosts 3 home darts teams and is now on the County Darts Super league circuit which is proving very lucrative. The pub also shows all the major BT/Sky sporting events on the many big screen TVs.

The pub is currently run by the owners with a team of full and part time staff. Dicey Reilly's trades all day, every day, 7 days a week from 11.00am until midnight with a valuable late license on Fridays and Saturdays, allowing the pub to trade until 3am.
